really is unique. It is probably the only event at which a New Yorker does something he does not wish to do. The Manhattanite takes great glee in doing only what he wants. He rarely is polite in the subway and he never goes to a show recommended by someone else. He spits on the sidewalk (I am speaking generally) and behaves, roughly, as if school were out. Yet, at the cocktail party, this fine, wholesome selfishness disappears, and he sips sherry, like me, or babbles small talk-and the New Yorker hates small talk.

I think it all stems back to childhood; the oh-goody-we're-goingto-a-party outlook never quite leaves us. Unfortunately, the best thing about a party always is thinking about it.

The same argument would have barried out old time stage favorites like "Way Down East", "Shoreacres" and the like, in which a grasping money-lender is one of the chief characters. EXCEPTING PERHAPS MILK, a quart of which I have absorbed daily for 15 years in the hope of padding my piano wire-and-pinball frame, there is no fluid I dislike so much as sherry.

I know it is genteel and the hallmark of refinement but I personally prefer the spot on my vest rather than in my stomach. I bring up this item because the other evening I found myself sipping the stuff, nodding to my host and saying "Excellent bouquet, eh?" It struck me suddenly, as I stood there like a grinning ape with the carbolic acid in my hand, that a cocktail party in New York really is unique. It is probably the only event at which a New Yorker does something he does not wish to do. The Manhattanite takes great glee in doing only what he wants.

He rarely is polite in the subway and he never goes to a show recommended by someone else. He spits on the sidewalk (I am apeaking generally) and behaves, roughly, as if school were out. Yet, at the cocktail party, this fine, wholesome selfishness disappears, and he sips sherry, like me, or babbles small talk-and the New Yorker hates small talk. The hours slip by and great gaps are being eaten in the tapestry of his youth by moronic human moths, and he does nothing about it. I think it all stems back to childhood; the oh-goody-we're-goingto-a-party outlook never quite leaves us. Unfortunately, the best thing about a party always is thinking about it.

Edward Phebus Honored *On Seventh Birthday By Gay Afternoon Party

12 Lads Taken To Movie

Edward Phebus, seven-yearold son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward BOARD OF MANAGEMENT, Christmas party. Phebus, Seyfert avenue, was honored Saturday afternoon when his mother arranged a party in celebration of his birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Phebus took the youngsters to a movie matinee and invited them to return with Edward for refreshments in their home. A gaily lighted Christmas tree lent the atmosphere of the holiday season in the hostess' home. Refreshments were served in the diningroom from a table centered with a large birthday cake marked with seven burning candles.

Savings To Feed 15,000

Employes Here Vote To Omit Turkey

Exemplifying the Yuletide spirit, approximately 100 employes of the Ralston Purina company in Circleville, have voted to forego dining sumptuously at the Christmas banquet which the company tenders annually.

The case which would have been expended on the menu of turkey with all the trimmings will instead be used to purchase food for a holiday shipment to the starving boys and girls in Western Europe.

A. Vaden Couch, general manager of the Ralston Purina company here, who said the employes voted unanimously to cancel the yearly "big feed" in favor of the hungry children in Europe, declared the "banquet" and dance will be held the night of Dec. 19 in Memorial hall for employes and their wives.

Approximately 200 are expected to attend and the "banquet" will consist of relief cereal produced by the Ralston concern. The relief cerealmany tons of which have already been shipped to Europecosts about 10 cents a pound.

IN THIS manner, Couch explained, about $360 will be saved and the money will be used to purchase sufficient relief cereal to provide for ap-Europe's children.

Couch praised highly the spirit in which the company's employes voted to sacrifice the Christmas feast in order to provide food for hungry youngsters in far-off lands.

"adequate and efficient railway transportation service for the nation"

FROM THE OFFICIAL REPORT of the Interstate Commerce Commission on awarding a temporary freight rate increase of 10%, we quote:

"The law requires us to give due consideration, among other factors, to the need of revenue sufficient to enable the carriers under honest, economic, and efficient management to provide adequate and efficient railway transportation service for the nation ..."

A moment's thought should convince any fair-minded person that keeping the American railroads healthy is to everybody's advantage.

Every family, every businessman, even the Nation itself is in danger when this vital artery of American life is weakened.

And that threat is real, and it is now. For with increases in the cost of railroad operation piling up one atop another, how can the railroads' multimillion dollar program for desperately needed new equipment be continued? How can improvements in roadbeds, yards, stations, rolling stock, which took a merciless beating in the war years of peak traffic, be carried through?

They can't... UNLESS-

Unless the railroads are granted freight rates adequate to meet the wage and materials cost increases, and at the same time keep hundreds of American industries busy with new machinery and equipment orders.

Government requires that the railroads maintain a high standard of efficiency because You demand it, Industry depends on it, and the Nation must have it.

We are asking a permanent freight rate increase of the absolute minimum to meet our need-which is in every sense your

Our request should be granted.

Purina's Annual Banquet To Go To Europe's Starving

Savings To Feed 15,000

Employes Here Vote To Omit Turkey

Exemplifying the Yuletide spirit, approximately 100 employes of the Ralston Purina company in Circleville, have voted to forego dining sumptuously at the Christmas banquet which the company tenders annually.

The case which would have been expended on the menu of turkey with all the trimmings will instead be used to purchase food for a holiday shipment to the starving boys and girls in Western Europe.

A. Vaden Couch, general manager of the Ralston Purina company here, who said the employes voted unanimously to cancel the yearly big feed" in favor of the hungry children in Europe, declared the "banquet" and dance will be held the night of Dec. 19 in Memorial hall for employes and their wives.

Approximately 200 are expected to attend and the "banquet" will consist of relief cereal produced by the Ralston range Marshall plan. Despite his and fertilizer industries. concern. The relief cerealmany tons of which have already been shipped to Europecosts about 10 cents a pound.
